Summary

Talented and self-driven front end developer. I have extensive experience managing high-end projects, client relationships, and meeting deadlines. I pick up new things quickly and love to learn. After graduating college I turned an internship into a full time role that helped me begin my career as a developer. The experience I have gained with my last two employers has lead me the areas I want to focus on next. In 2021 I'm looking for a role that will allow me to focus on React, GraphQL, and TypeScript.
